Musical "A Christmas Carol"

Performance Riverside's Family Series' 2004 production of "A Christmas Carol" will feature some fresh faces both onstage and behind the scenes....some of the most accomplished students of Riverside Community College's Performing Arts Department.

Student Choreographer Jordan Beck, and Musical Director and 2000 RCC grad Brady Kerr join forces with Director Chuck Abernathy of the Performance Riverside staff, for this revamped musical production of the holiday classic.

Chuck says, "It's especially gratifying to work with Jordan. He has been a real friend to me, and it's been a joy to see him develop from an ambitious teenager just 6 years ago, to an accomplished playwright, performer and choreographer." Jordan, who won an Inland Theatre League award for his performance in last year's production, is well known to Inland audiences both as a performer, and as the author of Rialto Community Player's production of "A Tale of Two Cities." Jordan's cousin and Tale of Two Cities vet, 7-year old Gabriel May, will also be appearing as Tiny Tim.

Chuck continues, "Brady Kerr has really knocked me out with his drive, enthusiasm, and dead-on-the-money instincts. He came highly recommended, and I'd been a fan of his work since he was a student here, but I had no idea. It's like he knows what I want before I do, and finds a spin to make an idea even better." Brady is taking out time from his busy schedule as a session musician and composer to musically direct this show. "The talent I found here with the performers," Brady says, "has far exceeded my best expectations."

"I'm lucky," Chuck says with a grin. "I've got friends like John Lynd, Joe Musil, Patrick Brien, and Jennifer Young-Lawson, who are award winning directors and actors themselves, to take roles in this show. I've got students I've watched develop in RCC's Performing Arts Department like Sarah Ayotte, Trista Olivas, Christina Santamato, keeping me on my toes. Sixteen-year-old Samantha Carlson, from our Summer Conservatory, is back for her 3rd appearance in this show. RCC's Norco Theatre Conservatory's Artistic Director, Adam Demerath, has also been a real touchstone for me."

Rounding out the cast are Performance Riverside and Riverside Community players staff member Andrea Beemer McGuire; Riverside Youth Theatre siblings Heather, Cody, and Kendra Noriega; Moreno Valley's own Yukilynn McElvain, with credits with both RYT and RCP; recent USC grad Taylor Joseph; church choral director Deborah Smith of Redlands; returning cast member Virginia Fay, who, at only 14, is making her 4th appearance in this production; and Redlands University students Chanlon Jay Kaufman and Tess Jose, fresh from this summer's award

Musical Holiday Memories

3:00 pm

Celebrate the season with a blend of Mozart masterpieces and Holiday Classics. You may also sing along with the San Bernardino Symphony and the CSUSB Symphonic Choir during selections from Handel's Messiah.

W.A. Mozart Ave Verum Corpus, k 618
W.A. Mozart Piano Concerto no. 21, k 467

George F. Handel Selections from the Messiah
 With the CSUSB Symphonic Choir

Mozart wrote his Ave Verum Corpus, late in life, as he returned to devotional compositions. His Piano Concerto no. 21 is among the most technically demanding of all of Mozart's concerti. In fact, the composer's own father, Leopold Mozart, described the Concerto no. 21 as "astonishingly difficult". Finally, you will have the opportunity to raise your own voice, with those of the Chorus and accompanied by the San Bernardino Symphony Orchestra, in a traditional Christmas sing-along to Handel's Messiah. This special holiday concert should not be missed!

The San Bernardino Symphony
 California Theatre of Performing Arts • 562 W. Fourth St. • San Bernardino

Santa's Kitchen serves up Holiday fun at OakTree's Apple Annie's

What better way to get into the Christmas Spirit than a visit to Santa's Kitchen at Apple Annie's, located at OakTree Village in Oak Glen.

Beginning a new tradition at OakTree Village, Apple Annie's is preparing a fun-filled special Christmas treat for the kids (and parents) this year as it kicks off its First Annual Santa's Kitchen.

Here is what's on the menu: Starting Friday evening, Dec. 3, and going each weekend, Dec. 3-5, Dec. 10-12, and Dec. 17-19, children visiting OakTree Village are invited to Apple

Annie's to have dinner with Santa, Frosty the Snowman and Rudolph the Red-Nosed Reindeer - and, of course, Santa's elves. After enjoying a delicious meal from the extensive menu, kids will be treated to a reading of Polar Express and the Three Trees Christmas story. Plus, each child will receive a special gift of a Christmas sleigh bell. And, of course, all will participate in singing Christmas songs.

After dinner, the children will gather on comfortable, cozy quilts. Apple Annie's owners, the Wilson and Fox families, encourage the little ones to wear their pajamas and get comfy as they cozy up with hot chocolate and listen to the stories.

"This is for the kids and we want to help bring some Christmas magic to their holidays. It will be lots of fun for everyone," Terry Fox said.

The dinner-story time will begin hourly, from 5-8pm, Fridays and 1-7pm Saturdays and Sundays.

Weight-loss success

Holiday eating getting the better of you? The good news is, after all the indulging is over, you can take all the pounds off with a little work. Denise Crocker, who attends Curves for Women in Glen Avon and has been featured in past inspiration articles, gives the following success story to spur you on:

"I have continued to lose weight for a grand total of 104 pounds and 82 inches since joining Curves in Oct., 2003. I work out five days a week and eat lots of fruit and vegetables. My doctors told me my cholesterol and triglycerides are lower than his and he is a fit young man. I was able to get my driver's license back from a medical suspension and I am now working at Curves! I am celebrating my 25th wedding anniversary and can fit in the skirt I got married in! I have a whole new life and I owe it to Curves."
