Airshow 2013 – ‘Lightning Strikes Chino’

The Planes of Fame
Airshow at Chino Airport

Warbirds will once again fill the skies over Chino Airport during the Planes of Fame Air Show over the weekend of May 4-5. The 2013 Air Show will celebrate the Lockheed P-38 Lightning and the pilots who flew them.

On May 3, the public and museum members are invited to an Airshow Preview Event consisting of aircraft arrivals and practice flights. Get all the details for these events from the website at www.planesoffame.org.

Development on the P-38 Lightning began in 1937, in response to a USAF request for a high performance fighter with plenty of firepower. Lockheed's Hal Hibbard and Kelly Johnson designed a twin-boom aircraft with tricycle landing gear and turbo-superchargers for increased performance at high altitudes. The P-38 was also the first U.S. fighter to incorporate a tricycle landing gear.

P-38 Lightnings were used as escort fighters, bombers, pathfinders, night fighters, and photo reconnaissance aircraft. P-38s were flown in every theatre of WW2. Their long range allowed them to escort heavy bombers over Europe and to cover the large distances between islands in the Pacific. Richard Bong, America's highest-scoring ace in WW2, achieved all 40 of his victories flying P-38s. And it was a flight of P-38s that, in April 1943, shot down Admiral Yamamoto, the man who planned the attack on Pearl Harbor. Only about a half dozen of flyable P-38s remain today.

Many other warbirds, historic aircraft, modern military aircraft and aerobatic planes will make the 2013 Planes of Fame Air Show the Southern California and World Aviation event of the year. Adding excitement to the program of warbird flybys and air combat re-enactments will be high performance aerobatic displays. A tribute to all veterans will be performed by the U.S. Air Force Heritage Flight display Team. Other aircraft, military vehicles, and aviation-related items will be on static display for up-close viewing. There will even be opportunities for the public to experience Planes of Fame Air Museum member orientation flights in genuine warbirds. Numerous food and beverage vendors will delight the palette and a host of memorabilia vendors will be on hand to make the overall experience even more enjoyable for Air Show visitors.

The Planes of Fame Air Museum, founded in 1957 by Edward Maloney, is where aviation history lives. It is the oldest independently operated aviation museum in the United States. The museum collection spans the history of manned flight from the Chanute Hang Glider of 1896 to the space age Apollo Capsule. The mission of Planes of Fame Air Museum is to preserve aviation history, inspire interest in aviation, educate the public, and honor aviation pioneers and veterans. The Museum sponsors regular events in the form of inspirational experiences, educational presentations, flight demonstrations, and air shows in fulfillment of this mission.

MainStreet Theatre Company's Spring Benefit

Celebrate The Magic Of A Child's First Theatrical Experience

MainStreet Theatre Company's Spring Benefit at the Lewis Family Playhouse celebrates the amazing spark that happens when a child is introduced to theatre for the first time!

The fundraising event will be held on Saturday, April 13, at 7:30pm, on the set of The Phantom Tollbooth, the last show of the 2012/2013 season.

The MainStreet Theatre Co.

MainStreet Theatre Company is the award-winning resident company at the Lewis Family Playhouse in Rancho Cucamonga. MainStreet shows are known for their high production values, and for the high caliber of Los Angeles based theater artists who create unique, imaginative productions specifically for family audiences. The benefit is inspired by the hundreds of letters MainStreet receives from the children who come to see their productions. MainStreet performers and some fun special guests will be reading many of the letters and telling their own stories – or singing songs – about what sparked their interest in the arts for the first time. The letters are sometimes funny, sometimes heartfelt – but are all wonderful reminders of how important it is to expose young people to quality live performance!

The list is still evolving but MainStreet artists scheduled to appear include: Amielynn Abellera, Christopher Carothers, Reggie De Leon, Wyatt Fenner, Michael Stone Forrest, Ann Marie Lee, Jeremy Lelliott, Jane Noseworthy, Gregory North and Tracy Thomas. In addition, there will be special appearances by playwright and performance artist Luis Alfaro, KPCC's Steve Julian, and some zany antics by The Four Clowns. Surprise celebrity guests will be contributing their own stories and tributes on video.

Video guests to date include British playwright David Wood, actress Lynn Cohen, and many more. Janice Rodgers Wainwright will serve as musical director.

The silent auction will include some unique items, as well as children's books written by ce-

As a special bonus, the MainStreet Club will be holding its own event just for kids. Children (ages 4 and up) will enjoy games and activities at the Cultural Center while the adults attend the show and reception. Children do not have to be members of the club to attend but reservations are required. Parents can reserve a space for the Club event by calling the Box Office when they reserve their tickets to the fundraiser. The Club event is free for members and a donation is requested for non-members.

Benefit tickets are only $35 for a one-night-only show, a silent auction, and a champagne and dessert reception with the artists. Tickets can be purchased by calling (909) 477-2752 or by visiting www.lewisfamilyplayhouse.com. The event will take place on the closing weekend of MainStreet's production of The Phantom Tollbooth.

The Phantom Tollbooth

The Phantom Tollbooth, the last show of MainStreet's 2012/2013 season, opened on March 30 and runs through April 14. Public performances are on Saturdays at 1pm and 4pm, and Sundays at 1pm.

This imaginative musical adaptation of the beloved children's classic is a book by novelist Norton Juster and Broadway veteran Sheldon Harnick, with lyrics by Mr. Harnick, and music by Arnold Black. The show is directed by Jessica Kubzansky, with choreography by Sarah Gorman and musical direction by Janice Rodgers Wainwright.

The MainStreet Theatre Company and Lewis Family Playhouse are owned and operated by the City of Rancho Cucamonga which provides significant financial support to the productions. Ticket sales are specifically kept low ($16 for adults and $14 for youth and seniors) so that families can come to the theatre together.

MainStreet relies on sponsorships and fundraising to bridge the financial gap between the City's support and ticket sales. All proceeds from the Spring Benefit will go to support MainStreet's productions.

Doobie Brothers Play At Riverside's Fox

Joined by Special Guests
Chris Thayer Band

MUSIC LEGENDS The Doobie Brothers perform on April 13 at the Fox Performing Arts Center.

The Doobie Brothers band has sold more than 40 million albums worldwide throughout its career. The group was inducted into The Vocal Group Hall of Fame in 2004. On April 13, The Doobie Brothers, with special guests Chris Thayer Band, will perform at the Fox Performing Arts Center in Riverside.

Their second album, Toulouse Street (which spawned the hits and classic rock staples, "Listen to the Music" and "Jesus Is Just Alright") brought the band their breakthrough success after its release in July, 1972. In collaboration with manager Bruce Cohn, producer Ted Templeman and engineer Donny Landee, the band put forward a more polished and eclectic set of songs. Pianist Bill Payne of Little Feat contributed keyboards for the first time, beginning a decades-long collaboration that included many recording sessions and even a two-week stint touring with the band in early 1974. With an improved rhythm section and the songwriting of Johnston and Simmons, the Doobies' trademark sound—an amalgam of R&B, country, bluegrass, hard rock, roadhouse boogie, funk, and rock and roll—emerged fully formed.

A string of hits followed, including

Johnston's "Long Train Running" and "China Grove," from the 1973 album The Captain and Me. Other noteworthy songs on the album were Simmons' country-ish ode "South City Midnight Lady" and the explosive, hard rocking raveup "Without You," for which the entire band received songwriting credit.

Chris Thayer Band

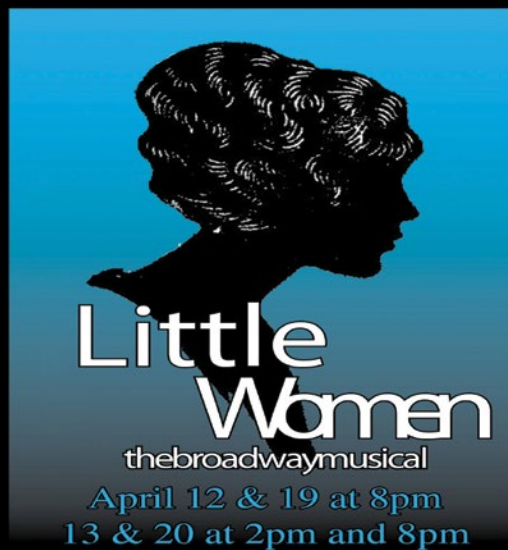

Like a heapin' helping of musical truth serum, Chris Thayer Band delivers a collection of bittersweet moments with a refreshing blend of wry wit and unflinching honesty. The First Ladies of Mariachi Music Reyna de Los Angeles

Perhaps the greatest tribute to Mariachi Reyna de Los Angeles, the first all female mariachi in the United States, is that now there actually are other all-female mariachi groups. It is the growing proof that when mariachi Maestro Jose Hernandez created Reyna de Los Angeles, it wasn't a novelty, it was a genre.

Reyna, which was formed in 1994, has taken the history of women in mariachi music from being solely singers to being the full complement of musical performers. The compliments have not stopped. In a musical landscape where songs are often written by men, about male perspectives, Reyna has created its own history.

That history had the best of

Big Bear Play Explores Shakespearian Mystery

CATS, the Community Arts Theater Society of Big Bear Valley, presents the world premiere production of the original Mark Twain And The Shakespeare Mystery. Written by and starring Robin Field, the production asks, who really wrote Shakespeare's plays and poems?

Mark Twain And The Shakespeare Mystery goes for a limited run at The CATS Warehouse Theater, April 5-14.

TWAIN IN DOUBT Mark Twain had his doubts about the actual author of Shakespeare's works.

Field, who has portrayed Twain on stage before, has adapted Twain's 1909 book Is Shakespeare Dead? into an original one-man, one act show asking the question that Twain posed: Who really wrote Shakespeare's plays and poems? Mark Twain was one of the first celebrities to doubt that it was the Stratford actor. Over a hundred years later, evidence is mounting that Twain was right.

Mark Twain And The Shakespeare Mystery opens at the CATS Warehouse Theater, and will play seven performances on April 5, 6, 10, 12, 13 at 7:30pm and on April 7 and 14 at 2:30pm. Open seating is limited and advance ticket purchase is suggested.

Field, who has recorded many of Twain's classic works as audio books, says: "Playing Twain on stage is a joy, especially when he gets on such an angry, funny rant, as he does in this work. Writing his autobiography near the end of his life, Twain devoted several chapters to this issue. Then he decided to publish them as a separate book. This information has never been presented on stage before. The other 'celebrities' who have shared Twain's doubts include Charles Dickens, Walt Whitman, Ralph Waldo Emerson, Henry James, psychologist Sigmund Freud, actors Charlie Chaplin, Orson Welles, John Gielgud and Derek Jacobi."

But, as Field says, "Twain knew none of this new evidence. So my script presents only what Twain wrote in 1909."

The one-act play, suitable for the whole family, runs about ninety minutes, and is guaranteed to make you laugh and leave you wondering: Was Twain right? You decide.

General Admission is $15. For ticket information call (909) 585-4757 or check the CATS website at www.bigbeartheater.org or the CATS Facebook page. The CATS Warehouse Theater is located at 1117 W. Big Bear Blvd. in Big Bear City, one block East of Division, next to The Broadway Cafe. IER

Alcott's 'Little Women' Plays On CBU Stage

Based on Louisa May Alcott's own family experiences, Little Women follows the adventures of Jo, Meg, Beth and Amy as they grow up in Civil War America. The beloved story of the March sisters is timeless and this wonderful story has been brought to life in a musical filled with glorious music at California Baptist University in Riverside.

Leading the girls is their mother, Marmee, and providing romantic interest is the precocious next door neighbor, Laurie, and his tutor John Brooks. Their Aunt March tries to put a damper on the family's enthusiasm for life but usually ends up making us laugh a little at her opinionated outlook. Little Women is a complete theatrical experience, guaranteeing a night filled with laughter, tears, heartache and a lifting of the spirit.

California Baptist University's production promises all those things and more. Directed by Lisa Lyons, the talented group of actors from the theatre and music departments throw themselves into the story with abandon and joy. The student orchestra, under the baton of Dr. Angela Brand, soars to new heights which will let you leave the theatre humming the powerful score.

The show begins its run on Friday, April 12 at 8pm and plays on Saturday, April 13 at 2pm and 8pm. It also plays the following weekend, April 19 and 20 at the same times. General admission is $15 with matinee prices, seniors and students at $12. Little Women is performed on the beautiful CBU campus in Riverside, 8432 Magnolia Ave., at the Wallace Theatre with free parking available. For more information, call the theater Box Office at (951) 343-4319. IER

Celebrating Dance Diversity At Chaffey

Annual Spring Dance Concert Offers High-Energy Performances With A Wide Range Of Dance Styles

The Chaffey College Dance Department presents its annual spring dance concert showcasing the choreographic talents of Chaffey faculty and dance students celebrating the diversity of dance with a kinetically intense mix of modern dance, jazz, contemporary ballet, tap, hip hop, musical theatre, and ballroom. With a thirty-seven member cast, this year's concert, Impetus 2013, will prove to be a dynamic and exciting performance that offers something for everyone with a well-paced, high-energy range of dance styles.

Artistic director and full-time dance faculty Michele Jenkins choreographed several of the dance works including ensemble excerpts from Victor/Victoria, Grease, and Hello Dolly!; a quirky and whimsical modern dance piece displaying fanciful fluidity to Cirque du Soleil's O soundtrack; a contemplative, psychological contemporary ballet to music by Beats Antique; and a restaging of alumnus choreographer Liane Adamo's parody of America's diet and exercise mania to Gloria Gaynor's "I Will Survive."

Inspired by the music of Rob Dougan, Maura Townsend,

Chaffey's modern and jazz adjunct instructor, provides a modern, jazz, and ballet infused contemporary piece adeptly interweaving the themes of good versus evil and dark versus light. Chaffey's hip hop and social dance adjunct instructor, BJ Brasier, offers a musical interpretation of the movie Blade Runner fusing hip hop, ballroom, popping, and locking to music by Duran Duran and George Michael. Daniel Smith, Chaffey's jazz dance adjunct instructor, fires up the stage with a musical theater-infused jazz piece. Daniel's explosively energized jazz dance celebrates womanhood to Tina Turner's legendary "Proud Mary."

Using music from Album Leaf, student choreographer David Martinez offers a contemporary modern dance duet investigating life's ever-present emotional conflicts. David also showcases a passionate, love-themed ballroom dance piece incorporating Tango, Bolero, and Paso Doble.

Student choreographer Tim Eswagen presents a high-energy hip hop rendition of the movie musical Despicable Me, and from Andy Carballo, student choreographer, a ballet-jazz-contemporary duet revealing fierce emotions and domination in a sexually-driven club scene to music by Yeah Yeah Yeahs. Marlenna Dick, Chaffey advanced tap student, showcases rhythm tap to its energetic extreme in a 1920's flapper-themed tap piece to music by Parovoz Stelar, and from guest student choreographer, Stacey Strickland, a flamboyantly campy jazz dance inspired by the renowned jazz and modern styles of Talley Beatty.

Creating scenic magic is intelligent lighting designer Guy Rock, who returns to provide technical and dynamic lighting artistry along with the talents of conventional lighting designer Gary Reinschmidt.

Impetus 2013 runs May 2, 3, and 4 at 7:30pm and May 5 at 2pm.

Tickets: $12 and available through the online Box Office at www.chaffey.edu/theatre_tickets or Box Office at (909) 652-6067.

First 5 San Bernardino Invests In Improving Oral Health Outcomes For Children 0-5

Tooth decay remains high in prevalence for children ages 2-5, a fact that fuels the many public health messages shared during National Children's Dental Health Month observed each year in February. California ranked the third-worst state in the nation for dental decay among kindergartners, according to a 2007 study from Center for Oral Health. Locally, First 5 San Bernardino has taken action to address improved oral health in children from prenatal stages to age 5, by investing $5,536,965 in Oral Health initiatives that range from funding maternal oral health education to strengthening the network that ensures access to dental care providers.

The Children and Families Commission for San Bernardino County (First 5 San Bernardino) was created in December, 1998, in order to realize the benefits of Proposition 10 (California Children and Families Act) for the County's youngest residents and their families. The act created a system of programs for the purpose of promoting, supporting, and improving the early development of children from the prenatal stage to five years of age.

First 5's investment into support services, community outreach and evaluation, made it possible that 65% of children ages 0-5, who were enrolled in First 5 San Bernardino dental programs, were able to visit a dental care provider for the first time.

Access to a dental care provider is one of the most significant barriers to the proactive management and preventative treatment of oral health issues. Coupled with misconceptions of how and when to address optimum oral health, expecting parents miss opportunities to protect themselves and their unborn children from detrimental attacks to their mouth, causing alarm for many health and dental professionals as patients frequently require care in devastating stages of preventable oral diseases.

First 5 San Bernardino's Oral Health programs conducted dental exams for more than 1,400 children and 900 parents between 2011-2012, creating access for families to receive regular dental care and access to information on oral health to improve positive outcomes at home.

First 5 San Bernardino Executive Director Karen Scott comments, "We are hopeful about the results we are seeing from this health initiative and can only anticipate continued growth in this investment. A child's good oral health condition goes beyond their budding smiles; it helps them to function attentively at school, influences positive diet choices, and helps families' bottom-line in health care expenses. Minority children and children of low-income families are affected disproportionately by oral health challenges, and our investments are resources to provide the relief and support services they need to continue thriving as a family."

A free guide to oral health is available for download with resources for families with children (prenatal to age 5), at <http://bit.ly/f5sbhguide>. For more information about Oral Health initiatives from First 5 San Bernardino, visit www.first5sanbernardino.org or call (909) 386-7706. IER

Any trip to the Inland Empire is incomplete without visiting the Western Science Center. As the region's premier natural history museum, the Western Science Center features many fine Ice Age mammal specimens, regional Native American artifacts and offers many excellent educational programs for the young and young at heart.

This is an incredible museum where visitors can walk among mammoths, mastodons and giant sloths, learn about the discovery of these magnificent critters as well as delve into the history of our regional Native American tribes and early settlers. Many of the museum's exhibits are interactive and draw visitors into the academic domains of archeology, paleontology and geology. Don't miss the simulated archaeology and paleontology dig site outside!

The Western Science Center strives to make the visitor experience both educational and fun.

Currently the museum is presenting the exhibit Body Carnival: The Science and Fun of Being You. In a colorful carnival setting, kids squirm their way through a giant artery, feel the effects of music on the body and test their equilibrium in the Dizzy Tunnel as they discover many important facts about their own body. Don't wait to see this as The Body Carnival moves on after May 20.

Budding scientists love the museum's free program called Science Saturdays. Children of all ages learn about the wonders of science in a family friendly setting offered the first Saturday of many months. On April 6 this program will feature experiments relating to the world of "Light and Color." For children who have a desire to know "How Things Work," they should attend the Science Saturday on May 4 to explore circuits, gears and more. The June 1 Science Saturday is devoted to "Water Wonder" and promises to offer wonderful wet education and fun. The secrets of Science Saturdays are that the children have fun while learning and parents can bring the lessons home. Don't miss the fun and excitement at these three Science Saturdays. IER

Composer, Singer, Actor, Pepe Aguilar Brings His Celebrated Latin Music To Fantasy Springs

Inarguably one of the greatest artists of his time in the Latin music genre, 6-time Grammy winning artist Pepe Aguilar is an impressive master of fusion with an undisputed capacity to inspire audiences. On Saturday, May 4, Aguilar will bring his distinctive music to the Special Events Center stage at Fantasy Springs Resort Casino.

Blending traditional Mariachi sounds with contemporary pop music styling, Aguilar's career is one that spans nearly 35 years and began alongside his parents, recording legends Antonio Aguilar and Flor Silvestre. Aguilar was influenced and supported by his parents to start singing at a young age, gracing the stage for the first time at the age of three and performing at New York's Madison Square Garden two years later.

Aguilar's early foray into the music world as a solo artist was rooted in rock music, but he later turned back to the melodies that embraced his heritage, fusing the traditional sounds of his youth with a modern, pop sound and becoming a strong identity in the Latin scene, in addition to develop-

"I knew there were enough excellent female musicians to do it, and I didn't want guys to say, 'They play like girls,'" says Maestro Hernandez. "Now guys from other groups come up to me and tell me that they can't get over how these girls sound so amazing. It's because they sound like angels, and that's why they are named after the City of Angels."

Success has propelled Reyna de Los Angeles to record two successful albums produced by Maestro Hernandez: Solo Tuya (Yours Only) and El Mejor Mariachi Femenino del Mundo (The Best Female Mariachi in the World).

It is not just the title of the record, it's a proud legacy for a new world of mariachi music.
